A list of acceptable companies who provide this service can be found on the New York State Civil Service website. You must pay the required evaluation fee.

SPECIAL REQUIREMENT: The candidate must possess and maintain a valid license to operate motor vehicles in New York State for the duration of employment.

Duties: This position involves responsibility for assisting in the development and updating of the Public Health Emergency Preparedness Plan and developing related jurisdictional programs. This employee is responsible for assessing public health education needs and plans, developing and implementing educational programs regarding emergency preparedness and infectious disease control. The incumbent may have frequent contact with law enforcement, fire and emergency service providers, medical providers, colleges, veterinarians, pharmacists as well as other community based organizations. Coordination with the agency's division managers is essential. Under the general direction of the Public Health Director, the incumbent may direct the activities of Health Department staff in the event of an actual public health emergency. Considerable autonomy and independent judgment is exercised in the performance of these duties; tact; good judgement; emotional stability, initiative, and resourcefulness; good health, physically and mentally which allows for the performance of the essential functions of the position. The incumbent may serve as a lead worker over given groups, projects or activities or may supervise assigned personnel as directed by the Public Health Director. The work is performed under the general direction of the Public Health Director. A Public Health Emergency Preparedness Director does related work as required.

Subject of Examination: A test designed to evaluate knowledge, skills and /or abilities in the following areas:

Ensuring effective inter/intra agency communications - These questions test for understanding of techniques for interacting effectively with individuals and agencies, to educate and inform them about topics of concern, to clarify agency programs or policies, to negotiate conflicts or resolve complaints, and to represent one's agency or program in a manner in keeping with good public relations practices. Questions may also cover interacting with the staff of one's own agency and/or that of other agencies in cooperative efforts of public outreach or service.

Preparing written material - These questions test for the ability to present information clearly and accurately, and to organize paragraphs logically and comprehensibly. For some questions, you will be given information in two or three sentences followed by four restatements of the information. You must then choose the best version. For other questions, you will be given paragraphs with their sentences out of order. You must then choose, from four suggestions, the best order for the sentences.

Understanding and interpreting written material - These questions test for the ability to understand and interpret written material. You will be presented with brief reading passages and will be asked questions about the passages. You should base your answers to the questions only on what is presented in the passages and not on what you may happen to know about the topic.

Administrative techniques and practices - These questions test for a knowledge of management techniques and practices used in directing or assisting in directing a program component or an organizational segment. Questions cover such areas as interpreting policies, making decisions based on the context of the position in the organization, coordinating programs or projects, communicating with employees or the public, planning employee training, and researching and evaluating areas of concern.

Test guide: The New York State Department of Civil Service has not prepared a test guide for this examination. However, candidates may find information in the publication 'General Guide to Written Tests' helpful in preparing for this test. This publication is available on line at: <https://www.cs.ny.gov/testing/testguides.cfm>.

Use of calculators is allowed for this examination.

This examination is being prepared and rated by the New York State Department of Civil Service in accordance with Section 23-2 of the Civil Service Law. The provisions of the New York State Civil Service Rules and Regulations dealing with the rating of examinations will apply to this examination.
